LONDON—Lloyd George said that in his opinion Allied Intervention in Russia would be the greatest act of stupidity. He believed England should not be committed to the gigantic task of improving conditions in Russia.

LONDON—Lloyd George said: "I would rather leave Russia to the Bolsheviks until they see their way out of it rather than see Great Britain in bankruptcy."

LONDON—"There is a complete understanding on the fundamental questions of the peace settlement," Lloyd George declared today in addressing Parliament. He said that it is not true that America and Europe are at variance. In pointing out the difficulty in effecting peace the Premier said that a complete breaking up is threatened in Russia, Austria and Turkey. "There is no authority throughout Russia," he said, "and the question of recognition for the Soviet government has never been proposed."

PARIS—The peace preliminaries were made known this afternoon to the delegates of the 48 smaller nations which declared war against Germany which was outlined by the five great powers' meeting held in the French foreign office.

OMAK—Indisputable evidence of the massacre by the Bolsheviks of 2,000 civilians in and near the town of Osa has been obtained by Simonds and Emerson and Doctor Rudolph Teusler of the American Red Cross who have just returned from Perm Osa and other re-occupied Russian territory.

BERLIN—Government troops badly defeated by the Bolsheviks in an attempt to hold the Munich railway station, according to a Nuremberg dispatch.

COPENHAGEN—A Munich dispatch says the first infantry regiment has joined the Spartans and that anarchy is in full swing in Munich, the robbers and looters being allowed to go unchecked.

NEW YORK—The 346th Infantry, 91st division, left for western camps to demobilize today.

SAN FRANCISCO—Mayor Ole Hanson of Seattle, addressing an audience of ten thousand in the civic auditorium, declared that there is no place in the United States for Bolsheviks. He said the Federal and State governments should give work to the unemployed on public works. Mayor Roth of San Francisco was chairman of the meeting at which Hanson spoke.

SEATTLE—Former Policeman Ed. Hagen was jailed here today charged with stealing government liquor.

SEATTLE—Senator Miles Pinder of Spokane addressed the Republican club of Seattle last night.

SAN FRANCISCO—The body of Mrs. Phoebe Hearst was laid to rest today beside her husband in the family mausoleum in Cypress Lawn cemetery. Courts, schools, state and city institutions adjourned as a tribute.

SEATTLE—In order to investigate terminal facilities and improvements in transportation necessary to handle the output of coal from Matanuska, Captain Sumner, E. W. Kittrells and Captain L. E. Gregory, U. S. N., sailed for Anchorage this morning.

LABOR UNION IS ORGANIZED IN WRANGELL

A branch of the Alaska Labor Union was organized in Wrangell Tuesday night with 72 members.

H. V. Henrikson, secretary of Alaska Labor Union No. 5 at Ketchikan, arrived in Wrangell Tuesday. He at once hired the hall used by the Rex theater, and got out handbills announcing a public meeting that night for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Alaska Labor Union.

A large audience turned out in response to the call. Mr. Henrikson delivered a forceful address setting forth the need for united and intelligent action on the part of the workmen.

Mr. Henrikson said in part:

"There are three things necessary in order for the workmen to better their condition. They are: First, organization; second, education; third, intelligent action. One of the chief objects of the Alaska Labor Union is to make better citizens. We do not tolerate any Bolshevik tendencies. We know that we have the best government in the world. But however patriotic we may be we are bound to admit that there are some conditions in our country that should be changed. The workmen have it in their power to correct whatever is wrong in this country. We have the most pliable government in the world, and by the intelligent use of the ballot we can change anything there is in our government that does not tend to promote the welfare of the people as a whole.

"The ballot is far more effective than violence. Revolution and bloodshed are not necessary to attain the ends sought by labor. Therefore we have no place in our organization for the red flag. The man who wants to carry the red flag positively will not be tolerated in the Alaska Labor Union. But the workmen must take part in politics, both local and national, if they are to protect their own interests. I can state with pride that 100 per cent of the membership of our union at Ketchikan registered for the recent municipal election."

At the conclusion of Mr. Henrikson's address the local people proceeded with the organization of a union. Seventy-two persons came forward and signed the roster. The following officers were then elected:

William Lewis, president.
B. R. Sawyer, vice president.
K. J. Johansen, secretary.
Marcus Wigg and Ted Dailey, conductors.

A. Jakobitz and Herb Russell, sergeants-at-arms.
Directors—Charles Benjamin, Elmer Carlstrom, John Olson.

Executive Board—Wm. Lewis, K. J. Johansen, Gust Kruse, Charles Benjamin, B. R. Sawyer, Carl Arola.

Mr. Henrikson, the organizer, left during the night for his home in Ketchikan. He made the trip to Wrangell on the "Star" withing on the S. S. Alaska. They will be joined at Anchorage by a party of scientists. Wickersham was a passenger to Anchorage on the same boat.

PARIS—Former Dowager Empress of Russia and a number of members of the Imperial family including former Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholavitch have arrived in Constantinople to reside.

THE LATE CHARLES A. SULZER

M. Danielson, the owner of the boat, at the wheel.

As an exponent of labor, Mr. Henrikson is both conservative and constructive. The charge is often made that too many labor leaders are foreigners. Mr. Henrikson is an American, and of the stamp that will fight for his country. He saw service in Cuba. He enlisted and had an active part in the relief work carried on by the army in San Francisco following the earthquake. Mr. Henrikson has splendid letters of commendation from his superior officers for his faithful and loyal service. He did not mention these things in his address. However, the publisher of the Sentinel once resided in Mr. Henrikson's home town where he came in contact with the family. Henrikson's wedding invitations were produced in an establishment where the writer of this article was once employed.

Mr. Henrikson, with his wife and four small children, have been residents of Ketchikan for the past three years.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Lashier arrived in Wrangell last week. They have rented one of the Patenaude cottages near the school building. Mr. Lashier is delivering a series of lectures, taking up the study of world history in the light of Bible prophecy. The lectures are given in the building opposite the Wrangell hotel formerly occupied by Wm. Hood as a pool hall, each evening at 8:30. The admission is free and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

PROCEEDINGS OF TOWN COUNCIL

The old town council met on last Thursday evening and heard the annual reports of officers and cleaned up all the business of the year, as far as possible.

Just before adjournment, Acting Mayor J. G. Grant made a short speech in which he expressed his confidence in the personnel of the new council. He stated that during the past two years the old council had worked most harmoniously, and he hoped it would be the good fortune of the new councilmen to be able to work together with the same harmony that prevailed in the old council. He referred to the gloom that was cast over the old council when Mayor Matheson's useful career came to a close so suddenly and he hoped the new council would remain an unbroken chain.

Following the adjournment of the old council the new mayor called the new council to order. After a few remarks he proceeded with organization, appointing the following committees:

THOMAS DALGITY, Chairman.
E. A. LINDMAN.
G. E. DIEMART.

The following officers were elected by the council:

Town treasurer—Chas. Benjamin.

Town clerk—J. E. Worden.

Town marshal—Earl West.

Fire chief—Oscar Carlson.

Street supervisor—Oscar Willett.

Health officer—Dr. S. C. Shurick.

The matter of a float for the benefit of fishermen was brought up and a committee appointed to look into the matter and report with recommendations at the next regular meeting.

Recently the old council took up the matter of getting a larger fire alarm bell. The clerk was directed to obtain quotations. The correspondence was not received until after the last regular meeting of the old council. The new council took action on the matter and ordered a bell. The old bell will be placed in the vicinity of the cannery. When the cannery is not in operation there is no way of giving an alarm when a fire occurs in that locality except by running up town as was done recently when the Mantel house was on fire.

The Columbia & Northern made the following shipment on the City of Seattle which sailed south Monday afternoon: 15,200 lbs. mild cured, and 5,200 lbs. salted.

C. A. SULZER PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY

KETCHIKAN—Wednesday morning—Hon. Charles A. Sulzer died on board the launch Taku II on his way to Ketchikan for medical treatment. Death was caused by stomach trouble. He took sick Monday morning at Sulzer. The remains arrived here this morning. It is reported that he has suffered from stomach trouble for years.

The above cablegram created a sensation when it was received in Wrangell yesterday morning. The news was so unexpected that people at long range doubted the truthfulness of the report. Yesterday morning the Sentinel received cablegrams from both Juneau and Seattle asking for confirmation or denial of the report. It was with deepest regret that we cabled confirmation.

Charles August Sulzer of Sulzer, Alaska; born at Roselle, Union County, N. J., February 24, 1879. Educated in public schools; Pingry School, Elizabeth, N. J.; Berkeley Academy, New York City; United States Military Academy. Served in the Fourth New Jersey Volunteers during the Spanish-American War. Came to Alaska in 1902, and has been actively engaged in mining in the Territory since that year. Married Miss Gertrude Harrison, of Elizabeth, N. J., in 1905; one son, William S. Sulzer, born in 1906. Grand trustee Arctic Brotherhood 1915, 1917. Was elected to Senate of Alaska Territorial Legislature from first division in 1914. From 1916 to 1918 he served as delegate from Alaska in the House of Representatives at Washington. He was a candidate for delegate again in 1918. The election was close and the matter has not yet been settled as to whether he or his opponent, James Wickersham, was elected.

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Charles A. Sulzer received a telegram yesterday morning announcing the death of her husband in Alaska.

SEATTLE—James Wickersham learned of the death of Sulzer just as he was sailing for Anchorage. He expressed his regret.

PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to call to eternal rest the spirit of Charles A. Sulzer, a man beloved by the many who recognized in him an earnest and faithful worker in his honorable undertakings, or for the principles which he considered right, and

Whereas, Death has sealed his lips and closed his eyes in everlasting sleep;

Now Therefore, I, Thomas Riggs, Jr., Governor of the Territory of Alaska, actuated not only by a sense of public loss, but by personal grief, do hereby call upon all persons within the Territory of Alaska, in both official and private life, as a mark of respect to the deceased and his sorrowing family, to lower all flags to half-mast between the hours of sunrise and sunset for the

CARTER GLASS ASKS LABOR TO AID THE LOAN

Victory Loan Campaign Starts

April 21 and Continues

Until May 25

To laboring men, Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass has addressed the following letter explaining what the Government expects of labor in the coming Victory Liberty Loan.

"Fellow Citizens:—The people of America entered the war to protect the honor and rights of the United States; to safeguard the liberty of mankind and to bring peace and security to the free nations of the earth. We expected, each one of us, to do our part, and whenever our Government called on us for men or money, we answered gladly and generously. We made up our minds to apply 'force without stint'—to win at all costs, and we have won far more quickly than the most optimistic of us thought possible. The speed of our victory saved tens of thousands of American lives and billions of dollars. It cost money to make speed, but far less than would have been necessary if we had progressed slowly. It will cost more money to bring our soldiers back and care for the wounded and pay the bills for the war supplies which helped so materially to bring a quick victory. We have already taken nearly $10,000,000,000 of Government securities and we will be asked to take in the Victory Liberty Loan several billions more.

"Unless we as a people subscribe for this loan, leaving the banks free to provide funds for the industry and commerce of the country, business cannot go on and expand. That means fewer jobs, poorer wages, and loss of our present great opportunity for a commercial growth and prosperity which would benefit us all. If you want to help keep the business in which you are engaged prosperous enough to furnish you a steady, well-paying job, join the majority of your fellow citizens in taking as much of the Victory Liberty Loan as you can.

"The prosperity of each one of us depends on each doing his part. When the Liberty Loan Committee comes around to you and asks for your subscription, remember that it is O.K. debt, that we are asked, not to give, but to lend, and then invest all you possibly can in the obligations of your Government.

"I am sure that every true American will do his part."

THEY TELL THEIR OWN STORY

The Kaiser's Letter

To Frau Meter who has lost nine sons in the war:

"His majesty the kaiser hears that you have sacrificed nine sons in defense of the Fatherland in the present war. His majesty is immensely gratified at the fact, and in recognition is pleased to send you his photograph, with frame and autograph signature."

Lincoln's Letter

To Mrs. Bixby who lost five sons in the war of the rebellion:

"Dear Madam—I have been shown in the file of the war department a statement of the adjutant-general of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously on the field of battle. I feel how weak and fruitless must be any words of mine which should attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering to you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the republic they died to save. I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom."

Agitation for the Dredging of Wrangell Narrows

Petersburg Commercial Club
Sends Resolution to the Secretary of Interior

The Petersburg Commercial Club, after being defunct for several years, was reorganized last week with J. H. Wheeler president, and T. S. Ellsmere, secretary.

The chief object of the reorganization seems to have been to take active steps toward securing an appropriation from the Government for the dredging of Wrangell Narrows. The newly reorganized club alleges that the Dry Straits project is impractical but sets forth that the proposed dredging of Wrangell Narrows is feasible.

The following resolution was adopted:

To the Hon. Franklin K. Lane,
Secretary of the Interior,
Washington, D. C.

Whereas: Wrangell Narrows is a narrow strait separating Mitkof and Kupernof Islands, in the Alexander Archipelago, about 20 miles in length, and

Whereas: this narrow strait is the most direct route of travel for all steamers operating between Seattle and all points in southeastern and southwestern Alaska, and

Whereas: this strait is suitable at the present time for navigation by small, shallow draft vessels only, which makes it necessary for the larger vessels in this trade to travel by a much longer and more dangerous route around the outside of Kuiu Island in the open waters of the North Pacific Ocean; and

Whereas: this outside route causes these vessels to travel over 75 miles farther on each trip, both north and south bound, causing much delay in the delivery of perishable freight and mail, and

Whereas: the operation of the smaller boats now in use on the Southeastern Alaska run and which are suitable for the navigation of Wrangell Narrows is becoming unprofitable, making it necessary to replace them with larger steamers, and

Whereas: at the present time even the smaller boats now navigating the waters of Wrangell Narrows are now forced to wait on the tide before they are able to proceed, at a greatly increased cost of operation, and

Whereas: the wreck of the steamer "Mariposa" with a monetary loss of $1,507,209.00, was directly due to her inability to navigate the shorter and safer waters of Wrangell Narrows; and

Whereas: Petersburg, which is a fishing and sawmill town located on the north end of Wrangell Narrows has grown within the past few years to a point where the imports of the town were third in value of those of any town in the first division of Alaska and sixth in value of any town in the entire territory; and

Whereas: from data in the hands of the Petersburg Commercial Club it can be shown that after Wrangell Narrows is once deepened, no further expenditure of money will be necessary for the maintenance of the channel as the tide will keep the channel clear. This has been proven by the fact that the channel on the bar between Petersburg and Scow Bay has been steadily maintained at an even depth of water for the past 16 years by the action of the tidal current, which also applies to all shallow points in the narrows; and

Whereas: the dredging of Dry Straits, farther east, has been proven to be impractical because of the current from the Stikine River which is constantly shifting the channel around and which fill any depressions with silt and mud almost within a day, and also on account of the heavy fields of ice which are delivered into Dry Straits from the LaCounte Glacier, and which make it impossible of navigation at certain times of the year: These ice fields continuing north for 10 miles, or more, in Frederick Sound of which fact the Masters and Pilots of steamers operating in Alaskan waters are familiar.

Now Therefore; it appearing from these facts that the only feasible plan to shorten the operating time of steamers on the northern run and also the only way to eliminate the longer, exceedingly dangerous run around the outside, is by means of dredging and deepening a channel in Wrangell Narrows by dredging a short distance in a few places:

Be It Resolved, by the Petersburg Commercial Club, in session assembled, that the Government of the United States be, and it is hereby petitioned to expend the money necessary to so deepen the Channel through Wrangell Narrows so as to make it safe for navigation of the larger boats at all times and in all weathers.

Be It Further Resolved, that copies of this petition be sent to the Masters and Pilots Association of the Pacific Coast for their approval and cooperation; to the Honorable James Wickersham, Delegate from Alaska; to Honorable Charles A. Sulzer, Delegate-elect from Alaska; to the Alaska Bureau of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce; to the Tacoma Commercial Club; and to the Commercial Clubs of our sister cities of the north, with the request that they and each of them do everything in their power to bring about these things for the greater good of the entire Territory north of Wrangell Narrows.

Dated at Petersburg, Alaska, this 10th day of April, 1919.
Petersburg Commercial Club.

Hydaburg to Have Electric Plant

Reports from Hydaburg disclose the fact that the Natives of that flourishing and modern little city are striding ahead at a great rate. On the last trip north of the Redondo, a new sawmill outfit and an electric plant arrived for Hydaburg giving it a good start towards the goal which makes for a real town. This sawmill will be put together by Mr. F. L. Cloudy of Seattle who will be the millwright. Mr. Cloudy was formerly connected with the Craig mill. The mill is the property of the Hydaburg Co-operative company, and will be operated this season, and will produce enough lumber to supply the whole district, it is hoped.

DEMAND FOR NEW COINS.

Whether or not congress will decree the issuance of coins of new denominations will depend, no doubt, upon whether it is convinced that these additions will add to the convenience of the public or promote thrift, says Portland Oregonian. The proposed six-cent piece, for example, would result in the saving of some time now consumed in making change in the purchase of articles which formerly were sold for a nickel and lately have advanced 20 per cent. It is a curious circumstance that as money becomes more plentiful the fraction of the cent increases in importance. This is due to the advance in prices, which has resulted in greater care in buying. There is not so much to be said for the revival of the old two-cent piece. The pennies we now use seem to be equal to the demands upon them, but their coinage ought at least to be increased. Among the coins formerly in circulation which have gone out of use is the 20-cent piece. It performed no definite mission, and it caused much confusion by being mistaken for a quarter-dollar. It is not proposed to revive it now, for it accomplishes nothing which cannot be performed by two dimes. The six-cent piece and the eighth of a dollar are upon a slightly different plane.

Germany probably will be a horseless country after the war, for the stock of horses has been decimated, partly by military operations and partly for food purposes. It is generally admitted that motorcar transportation will be at least as important as the railroads of the country in the future, and it is interesting to note how the fuel problem is to be coped with. It is no secret that German capitalists are ready to grasp control of the great Caucasian oil fields of Russia, and there is hardly a doubt that this will be one of the first things they will attempt as soon as they get the opportunity. Oil is not the only Russian product which they aim at cornering but such plans as these explain the eagerness of the empire's business class to conclude a separate peace with Russia, no longer to be feared in a military war.

The striking increase in the number of incomes over $250,000 from 1914 to 1916 shows the justice of war-profits and graduated income taxes. The four classes from $3,000 to $15,000, including the great majority of all taxable incomes, decreased in 1915. Next year all classes increased in number by a total of 100,000; and the total income increase of those below $15,000 was just about equal to the total of increases above $250,000. Present figures may show a like tendency in 1917.

It is to be hoped that that Italian professor is right in his claims to have discovered a definite treatment for tuberculosis. This war is doing a good deal to undo what had been gained in the effort to combat this disease—except so far as knowledge is concerned—and there will be need for all the curative agencies which can be summoned for control and eradication.

St. Philip's Church

Good Friday and Easter Services.

April 18, 7:30 p. m.—The Oberammergau pictures. Every tenth year, Oberammergau, Hungary has been the Mecca for tourists from all over the world to witness the Passion play. It is quite probable that the play will never be acted again as most of the characters were sacrificed in the late war. All this will make the pictures of scenes in the play the more interesting. Remember the time—tomorrow night at St. Philip's church.

Easter, April 20, at 8:30 a. m.—Holy Communion with sermon.
 11:30 a. m.—Bible School with presentation of lenten mite box offerings.

7:30 p. m.—Easter service with appropriate music, solos and choruses. Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. McLaughlin and Mr. Carlson will sing.

Theme Easter opens the way to a good earth and Heaven. Offerings on Easter day for the National and International work of the church.

It is getting time of the year for a general clean-up of rubbish. A clean-up day is necessary, not only to improve the appearance of the town, but for sanitary reasons. Old tin cans and other rubbish are a menace to the health of the community. There are many spots in Wrangell which are now covered with rubbish that could be made a delight if the rubbish was removed and flowers planted. As soon as the date for Wrangell's clean-up day is set it will be announced.

The Redman lodge installed the following officers last Tuesday night:

 Senior Sagamore—Oscar Wickstrom.
 Junior Sagamore—A. Jakobitz.

NEW MANAGER FOR MATHESON STORE

Wm. Patterson on Monday became manager of the Matheson store.

Mr. Patterson has lived in Wrangell and Southeastern Alaska for several years and has a wide acquaintance.

A GOOD MAN GETS IN BAD

Many a good man has gone wrong. Sometimes it is an insatiable desire to get rich quick. Sometimes there is a woman mixed up in the case. There have been instances where supposedly honorable citizens could not resist the temptation to smuggle. There have been cases where men of high standing seemed to have no compunctions of conscience about killing game out of season if they could only do it without getting caught. But never until this week did we ever hear of a hunter of wild game declaring war on a poultry ranch. A few days ago residents of the upper end of town had their attention attracted by several gun shots.

The gun was in the hands of Chas. A. West of the St. Michael Trading company dock. Just as this modern Nimrod was raising his gun to take another shot one of the neighbors cried out, "Don't you know those are Loftus' tame geese?" The tragedy of it is he didn't know it, and three fowls had already been slaughtered. When the owner of the fowls learned what had happened it looked as if there was going to be serious trouble between him and West. But the matter was finally adjusted in a peaceful manner, as is shown by the following document:

Wrangell, Alaska,

April 14, 1919.

Received from Charles A. West, the sum of Eight Dollars ($8.00) in full payment for the destruction and loss of one "Tommie," a tamed wild goose, and two only ducks, the sole property of one Johnnie Loftus of Wrangell.

The payment of this sum absolves the said Charles A. West and his legal heirs from any further payment, liability, pugilistic assaults, or other personal injuries.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I place my name in the presence of witnesses.
